

Microsoft for Startups unleash the StartupStrong guide

Since the pandemic began, innovators and businesses from around the world have produced blogs, launched emergency resource landing pages, made their events virtual, pivoted their products or services and recorded podcasts to support founders in crisis. To help entrepreneurs navigate this information overload, Microsoft for Startups has created their #StartupStrong guide.

Temps de lecture : minute

---

20 April 2020

As an entrepreneur, you may get lost in this ocean of information, struggling to know what you can rely on. To give you one less thing to worry about, Microsoft for Startups has created a "curated set of resources to help everyone access valuable support faster".

In addition to being free of charge and available to all, the guide, which started by looking at a handful of regions and will continue to publish expanded versions to include more global government, offers tax and legal support from tech leaders from across the world.

From strategic and tactical resources including government relief schemes, leadership advice, and some cool things to do, the #StartupStrong guide is a rich resource for entrepreneurs who may be struggling in these un certain times. Many podcasts and webinars have also been selected to provide startup founders with inspiration and helpful tips from supporting your team to managing your business.

The information will grow and be updated on a regular basis.

Strategic & Tactical Resources

- Government Relief, Taxes & Legal
- Further Global Perspectives: Africa, Australia/New Zealand/SE Asia, Canada, UK
- Leadership, Teams & Culture
- Taking Care: Health & Wellness
- Supplemental Reading: Reports & Points of View

Other things worth checking out

- Grants, Offers & Opportunities
- Hackathons
- Events & Webinars
- Podcasts

#StartupStrong

Stronger Together:
Support Resources for Founders

Discover the #StartupStrong guide

Read also

Home, but not alone. Stay connected, informed and inspired

---

Article by Maddyness